1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Note that in figures 1-41, an insertion device (10) comprises an enclosing member (12) for receiving and holding the deformable intraocular lens (56); wherein a peripheral edge portion of the lens (56) engages with the enclosing member (12); a holder (102) for closing the enclosing member (12) and maintaining the enclosing member (12) in the closed position; and further, wherein the enclosing member (12) considered having two hinge portions and grooves (as shown in figures 37-41) for supporting the lens (56).
